Strategic Directions for Nova Scotia's Mental Health System

Overview

The mental health of the population is dependent upon many determinants. One of these determinants is the formal mental health system, a complex combination of services and agencies which are interlinked and dependent upon one another. Increasingly, this formal system is reaching out to involve and partner with others in areas which were traditionally outside its scope of influence. It is becoming more community-based and integrated across the lifespan and across service locations. More emphasis is being placed on promotion, prevention and advocacy. These represent planned change which mental health stakeholders support.

Other areas within the formal mental health system requiring change have been outlined in recent reports (Mental Health: A Time for Action, 2000, A New Step Forward, 1998). Continuing to build on previous work (A Vision for the Future, 1992), stakeholders have been involved in creating this document which outlines the direction for mental health system development over the next five to ten years. Objectives, action plans and targeted timelines are outlined. The roles of the Mental Health Section of the Department of Health and the District Health Authorities and the IWK in achieving the objectives are identified.

The Department of Health is committed to tracking activity against these objectives and reporting on progress and action plans on a regular basis.

Health System Vision

Individuals and communities working together achieving a healthier population.

Mental Health Vision

Our vision of the mental health of Nova Scotians is one in which consumers and communities can attain their optimal level of mental health. Programs and services will run the gamut from mental health promotion to acute care. They will be unified, coordinated, flexible, offered on a district basis and geared to the needs and desires of the consumer.

Mental Health Core Values

We believe in:

Client and Community Centredness

- We value a consumer-focused, community-based approach to planning and decision-making. Service and the processes that create and sustain them will be inclusive and accepting of all people. Consumers and communities are the central focus at the core of our system.

Equitable Access

- Our community-based mental health system will be distinguished by the province-wide equitable access which it offers. Partnering with communities will be key to this.

Evidence-Based Best Practices

- Those responsible for our system are accountable to ensure that an evidence-based approach is used to introduce and sustain the best practices. Our outcomes-oriented system will be driven by demonstrated improvement in the mental health of the population.

An Integrated, Systems Approach

- We value a comprehensive continuum of well-coordinated services and supports. Mental health is integral to an overall vision for population health. Toward that end, it will be integrated with other health system components that address the determinants of health.

Consumer and Community Involvement

- Consumers and communities will be involved in the planning, implementation and monitoring of the mental health system. There will be a true partnership between administrators, care providers, consumers and communities to ensure that the programs are needs based and subject to accountability.
