The bad debt in respect of the purchase price of the gasoline or diesel oil, together with the tax imposed by the Act on the transaction must no longer be included as an asset of the collector's business or as an account receivable by the collector in the collector's books of account.

The gasoline or diesel oil on which the tax was imposed was purchased by the debtor through the use of a credit card or other credit arrangement that only permitted credit purchases from the collector who made the sale.

The collector must hold a valid permit issued under the Revenue Act at time of the sale of the gasoline or diesel oil.

The collector and debtor must be dealing at arm's length within the meaning of Section 251 of the Income Tax Act (Canada) at time of the sale of the gasoline or diesel oil from which the debt arose.

The collector must not have offset the indebtedness of the debtor against an account payable by the collector to the debtor.

The collector must not have assigned the debt without recourse and for consideration other than for security purposes.

The amount claimed must pertain to gasoline or diesel oil purchased from the collector 180 days or less prior to the date of the debtor's final credit purchase from the collector who made the sale.

The applicant must be able to provide satisfactory evidence that the fuel tax has been paid.

The application for rebate must be made within 48 months from the end of the first fiscal year in which the indebtedness of the debtor ceased to be included as an asset of the collector's business or as an account receivable by the collector in the collector's books of account

Only one rebate claim may be made by a collector in any twelve month period.

If after claiming a rebate of tax, a collector recovers from a debtor or any other person any of the unpaid indebtedness in respect of which the rebate of tax was claimed, including any proceeds from the sale of gasoline or diesel oil repossessed and sold on account of the unpaid indebtedness, the collector shall repay by direct payment to the Minister, the percentage of the rebate claimed that is equal to the percentage of the indebtedness recovered by the collector from the debtor or other person or from the sale of the repossessed gasoline and diesel oil.
