

Department of Community Services

2009-2010 French-language Services Plan

Message from the Deputy Minister

On behalf of Nova Scotia's Department of Community Services, I am pleased to present our department's French-language Services Plan for 2009-2010.

Past programs and plans have left us well-positioned to focus on direct services to the Acadian and francophone community. Departmental protocols for translation, training and communications have been developed and distributed and are now being used across the department.

A French language capacity study was carried out to identify DCS employees capable of offering French services. Community Services also took full advantage of French language training opportunities and filled 77 seats, enhancing DCS's ability and fluency in the language. Both the survey and training will help us become more efficient and improve our ability to offer French services to the Acadian and francophone community.

Collaboration with third-party service providers and community stakeholders is paramount. They are best-positioned to appropriately respond to the needs of the Acadian community. We acknowledge our role in supporting these organizations as they strive to enrich the lives of so many. These improvements mean sustainable changes for this and future generations, while also respecting cultural uniqueness.

The Acadian and francophone community play a vital role in the cultural diversity and richness of this province. Community Services is proud to work with the community as it establishes its raison d'être.

Our department's response to public requests for communication in French

French-language Training, Communication and Translation Protocols have been developed and distributed and are now in use throughout our organization.

A French component has been integrated into departmental waiting area and client suggestion box protocols. Both our internet and intranet sites are continually updating information on French initiatives for DCS employees and the public.

Presentations on French-language Services were given to all Regional Management Teams and new staff entering our department at orientation sessions. These enhancements lead to a standardized distribution of French material and information regarding our programs and services.

French-language Services offered by Department of Community Services

District offices in Yarmouth, Digby and Inverness counties are committed to offering services in French by having staff dedicated to serve the francophone community. Our satellite offices in Cheticamp and Meteghan are well-positioned in predominantly Acadian communities and offer most of its front-line services in French.

Our department ensures French representation at provincial stakeholder sessions and AGMs held by Acadian and francophone agencies. In addition, our Family and Community Supports division supports French Early Learning and Child Care Programs and Family Resources across the province.

We have conducted a French language capacity survey and are in the process of analyzing the data in order to utilize our French capability to its fullest. A French language bureau is being established to minimize response time to requests from the community for French language services.

In accordance with our Translation Protocol, we are prioritizing departmental brochures, pamphlets, documents and online information to be translated and made available to the Acadian and francophone community.

Community Services has assigned a fulltime Coordinator to enhance staff awareness of French-language Services. This position also offers third-party service providers and the community a vital link to our programs and services in their native language.

How the plan will contribute to the preservation or growth of the Acadian and francophone communities

The 2008-09 school year saw 70 percent of elementary school students entering the CSAP system at the primary grade level identify English as their predominant language. This number has risen five percent over the past three years. Acadian stakeholder meetings, Réseau Santé forums/consultations and Acadian Federation AGMs have consistently identified Early Childhood as a crucial time to provide supports if we're to avoid the threat of assimilation and preserve cultural identity.

Community Services, along with other departments and community partners, play a vital role in the lives of Nova Scotia children and their families. Our Family and Community Supports Division recognizes Early Childhood as a priority area in the Acadian and francophone community. Programs that are responsive to cultural diversity are evident throughout our Child Care and Family Resources Section. Our continued support of Early Learning and Child Care Centres, Family Resources and third-party services allow for programming and services to children and families in their own language. The Department of Community Services is committed to giving children a healthy start, while allowing them to maintain their cultural identity.
