Message from the Director of Public Prosecutions

I am pleased to present the 2014-15 Statement of Mandate for the Nova Scotia Public Prosecution Service (PPS).

The PPS continues to spearhead the province-wide e-disclosure initiative to facilitate the Crown's ability to receive uniform electronic disclosure from police. Full implementation of e-disclosure in routine cases is expected province-wide in 2014.

Education and training continues to be an important priority this year for both Crown Attorneys and support staff. A comprehensive educational program is being developed for the annual fall conference for Crown Attorneys. The program will comply with increasing requirements set by the Nova Scotia Barristers' Society for mandatory professional development for lawyers.

The PPS is developing a business case to acquire a case management system and will present that business case in 2014-15. As workloads continue to increase and criminal cases become increasingly complex, comprehensive case management is essential in order to address workload balance issues and to ensure efficient and effective prosecutions.

In response to concern among justice partners over provincial court delays, the PPS continues to work in cooperation with justice system stakeholders in identifying contributing causes and to streamline the processing of cases.

A PPS head office reorganization will be undertaken in 2014-15 with emphasis on improving the delivery of FOIPOP services, communications, national flagging, policy development and succession planning.

The PPS is collaborating with the Department of Labour and Advanced Education to put in place an additional prosecutor dedicated to Occupational Health and Safety offences. Recruitment is expected to be complete in the spring of 2014.

The PPS will also strive to achieve service-wide compliance to its policy on providing advice to police. All Crown Attorneys will be expected to routinely record all advice given to police.

The PPS looks forward to the 2014-2015 year and to moving these important initiatives along.

Martin E. Herschorn, Q.C.
Director of Public Prosecutions

MANDATE / MISSION / VISION

MANDATE

The Nova Scotia Public Prosecution Service is a functionally independent agency of government created by the Public Prosecutions Act. It shares a common Minister and some common services with the Department of Justice (DOJ), but it is not a division nor part of the Department of Justice. In addition to its statutory responsibilities, the Public Prosecution Service and its members contribute, where appropriate and feasible, to the formulation of public policy in the administration of justice.

The Public Prosecution Service, by statute, is responsible for:

- prosecution of all Criminal Code offences;
- prosecution of some other federal statutes;
- prosecution of provincial summary conviction offences;
- appeals before the Supreme Court of Nova Scotia;
- appeals before the Nova Scotia Court of Appeal;
- appeals before the Supreme Court of Canada;
- representation at Criminal Review Board hearings; and
- providing advice to police in respect of prosecutions generally or in respect of particular investigations.

MISSION

To seek justice and serve the public interest by performing prosecution duties with fairness, professionalism and integrity.

VISION

To be a leading prosecution service in Canada, highly effective and widely respected by the legal community and the general public, staffed by valued, skilled and motivated people, working in a dynamic supportive environment.

STRATEGIC OUTCOMES

The Nova Scotia Public Prosecution Service has identified several strategic outcomes for the year 2014-2015.

- The province-wide e-disclosure initiative will be completed with all investigative material arriving from police in a standardized electronic format;
- The PPS will complete a business case supporting the implementation of a comprehensive electronic case management system;
- A head office reorganization will be undertaken with emphasis on improving the delivery of FOIPOP services; communications; national flagging; policy development; and succession planning;
- The PPS will recruit a prosecutor dedicated to occupational health and safety offences;
- The PPS will strive for service-wide compliance to its policy on providing advice to police;
- Crown Attorneys will continue to be provided with the necessary continuing legal education to enable competent delivery of prosecution services;
- The PPS will continue its collaboration with justice system stakeholders to reduce delays in adult and youth case processing.

Performance Measures

Department Mandate: Provide advice to police in respect of prosecutions generally or in respect of particular investigations
Outcome	Measure	Base Year	Annual Target	Strategic Actions
Provide police with high quality legal advice and assistance.	The PPS is providing police with high quality legal advice and assistance when requested during the course of police investigations. This assists police in collecting evidence and laying appropriate charges.		The PPS responds to all requests from police and provincial enforcement officers for legal advice on particular cases or direction on matters of criminal law.	The PPS has instituted a policy requiring Crown Attorneys to record all advice given to police so that such advice is documented and to facilitate workload measurement. A process is underway to quantify that data.

Providing advice to police is an important element of the Crown Attorney's responsibilities.

Achieved through:

- Timely responses to police requests for pre-charge advice.
- Ongoing consultation with police during a lengthy and/or complex police investigation.
- Timely responses to police requests for general advice regarding prosecutions.
- Recording advice to police both to ensure quality of advice and to measure volume of Crown Attorney workload that is pre-charge.
