WHO IS WORKING ON YOUR HOUSE

FUEL SYSTEMS AND EQUIPMENT

Fuel suppliers and contractors working in your home are required to be trained and licensed and must follow provincial laws and national codes.

As a property owner you are entitled and encouraged to ask fuel suppliers and contractors the following questions:

- Do they have Fuel Safety licensed technicians?
- Do they have the required Fuel Safety installation permits for the installation of gas equipment?
- What steps will they take to ensure your fuel systems or equipment are installed and working safely? For example, will a pressure test be performed?

Be sure to ask for confirmation of training and licensing before the work is started.

If you have any questions or want to report unsafe work call 1-800-952-2687 or email laesafetybranch@novascotia.ca.
