

Costs/Time

Making a wise investment is important to you

The total price may seem like a lot or more than you want to spend. By going through the next part of the exercise, you can see how it is balanced against income and over a number of years.

Equipment needed	Costs	Cost to hire contractor per cord or m ³	Cords or m ³ needed to harvest to cover costs of equipment purchase	Cords or m ³ harvested per year	# of years to cover expenses	Other expenses
TOTAL

List the attachments you are considering. Remember that more than one system may be suitable for you.

A

B

C

Conclusion

Going through all these factors and information takes time but will pay off when you invest in equipment that is right for you and your woodlot.