Canada, a Beacon for Mining: 125th Anniversary of the Mining Society of Nova Scotia

Matt Ferguson¹

The Mining Society of Nova Scotia (MSNS) was formed in 1887 as the Gold Miner’s Club and soon evolved into the MSNS in 1892 and later into an affiliation with the Canadian Institute of Mining, Metallurgy & Petroleum (CIM) in 1918. The core purpose of MSNS is to serve the mining, minerals and materials industries and professionals in Nova Scotia and Atlantic Canada through networking, professional development, education and industry leadership.

This talk will provide an update on our recent activities and education initiatives as well as an introduction to our 125th Anniversary Celebration. In celebration of its 125th year, MSNS will be hosting a national event on June 6-8, 2012 at the Keltic Lodge Resort & Spa, Ingonish, NS. In conjunction with the CIM, MSNS will host the event “Canada: A Beacon for Mining”. Guest speakers will include Rick Mercer and many key players in the national and international mining industry.
