Chater Marine Supply Ltd	Chater marine started in 1968 by George Chater. We started as a butcher shop, but because of our quality, we were soon approached by the Canadian Navy to supply some of their vessels with fresh meat proteins. Due to their satisfaction with our quality and delivery rates, they started to inquire on other food items such as produce, dry goods, and then eventually duty free (bonded). We stepped up. From there, we added technical items to our offerings, and by 1972 we had become a full line ship chandler providing services such as Provisions, Bonded, Technical, Safety, Spare Part transfers, and Storage to all types of commercial and navy vessels, both foreign and domestic. In 2009, the company was succeeded by Charbel Chater, who continues the tradition today.
