

Safety Branch Youth Video Contest Entry

Safety Branch and the Canadian Centre for Occupational Health and Safety (CCOHS) sponsors the Focus on Safety Youth Video Contest, which encourages young people to create original videos highlighting the importance of workplace safety. This contest aims to raise awareness among youth, within each province, about the significance of safety practices and to inspire them to think creatively about how to promote a safe working environment. Provincially, winners of the contest receive monetary prizes from the Safety Branch, and the winning school is awarded a cash prize to use at their discretion towards safety awareness in their school. These winners move to the CCOHS's national level contest, to continue to be eligible for more prizes and showcase their video at Safety and Health Week. This initiative not only educates young participants about safety but also engages them in meaningful activities that can have a lasting impact on their attitudes towards workplace health and safety.

Here are this year's winners and submissions

1st place

Nola GooGoo, Natalie Tobin and Ryleigh Harris

Gear up, risk down!

School: Sydney Academy

Teacher Sponsor: Laurina Clarke

2nd place

Adam Smith, Jack MacInnis, Luke Morrison and Emmett Buchanan

Wear PPE

School: Baddeck Academy

Teacher Sponsor: Angie Harvie

3rd place

Tyler Scott and Dillan MacNeil

Negligence

School: Glace Bay High School

Teacher Sponsor: David Lavigne